TAMPERTECH Teaches:

What are Overt and Covert tapes?

Tamper evident Tapes can have a range of different designs both on the surface and subsurface so we break them down into two categories:

So, what are Overt and Covert tapes?

The overt tape is designed to make it obvious that it is a form of security tape to act as a visual deterrent, thus putting off people who want to tamper with it whilst keeping our normal security features underneath.

Covert security tape has been designed to look like a normal box tape until it is removed revealing a void message underneath, this is designed to highlight when a box has been tampered and potentially highlight a weak spot in the supply chain with the track and trace abilities of the tape allowing you to narrow down when the box has been tampered.

If you have any other questions about our overt and covert products do get in touch!

See Overt and Covert in action here ➡